Boutique in size, The Windsor features 180 beautifully appointed rooms and suites in keeping with the hotel's timeless character.

This is one of the rare hotels with architectural quirks: circular lounge rooms overlooking historic Parliament House in the Windsor Suites, stained glass doors and fireplaces in the Victorian Suites, and a clawfoot bathtub in the Royal Suite.

Formerly residences, the Victorian Suites are larger in nature, with separate sitting, living and dining rooms. The Royal Suite is the hotel's crown jewel, hosting film stars and royalty in its illustrious past.

AFTERNOON TEA

Afternoon Tea is an intrinsic part of The Windsor's history, served on premise since 1883. One of Melbourne's unmissable experiences, it comprises two courses - one savoury and one sweet - served on silver stands. French sparkling wine, Champagne and a choice from 11 specialty teas complete the occasion.

CRICKETERS BAR

A popular watering hole, the cosy Cricketers Bar is a step back into a more genteel past, with cricketing memorabilia lining the walls. Admire cricketing great, Don Bradman's bat, and pull up at the bar for a local beer, lunch or dinner.

ONE ELEVEN

Rise and shine with our a la carte breakfast. We have all the elements for a very Melbourne start to the day: farm-to-table Victorian and Australian produce, Windsor pastries, freshly squeezed orange juice and of course, good coffee from All Press.

SUNDA_

Located just five minutes from the hotel, SUNDA _ is an acclaimed modern Southeast Asian restaurant that draws on elements of traditional cooking. Sambals and curry pastes are hand-pounded with mortars and pestles, but traditional techniques aside, the cuisine is imbued with an uplifted, modern take.

Meander up the stairs to find a bar - a place to drop by for a drink and snacks. SUNDA_ also serves an Asian take on the Sunday roast for Sunday lunch. www.sunda.com.au

ARU

Aru is a modern Asian restaurant where native Australian ingredients and Asian flavours meet the heat of the wood fired hearth. The cuisine here is playful yet refined, with an incredible wine list spanning old world and new world wines.

The restaurant is set across screened "terraces" in a setting suited for hosting lunch or dinner clients. It also features a dedicated private dining room that seats 12, with the option to expand onto a terrace that seats 30. www.aru.net.au

ANTARA

ANTARA is an eating house with bakery set in a space to dazzle. A beautiful fit out of long open kitchen, bronze fluted glass, seats that look into the theatre of chef action, and a glass dough room on the mezzanine that overlooks the dining space.

Here, viennoiserie, bread and breakfast are prepped in the morning; tartines, small plates and house-made pastas for lunch; and bistro-style sharing dishes, pulled from the wood fire, at night. Aperitivo is also served from five.

A private room and semi-private terrace is available for events.

PARCS

PARCS is our smallest venue and our most intriguing one. A wine bar slash small restaurant, its focus is on considered eating and sustainability, with 50-70% of produce up cycled from within the group or grown in The Windsor's vegetable garden.

The chef team at PARCS come from some serious fine dining pedigree, evident in the execution of a menu that will surprise and delight. This is conscious eating at its finest, with a set menu or a la carte option.

PARCS can be booked for events and functions. parcs.com.au
