ABOUT KOOKABURRA AIR

Kookaburra Air is an Australian family-owned business originating out of Alliance Air, formed in 1990 and primarily involved in the hire of aircraft to charter operators and flight schools.

Kookaburra Air started on 8th January 1996 to service W.A, air charter needs and develop air tours and scenic flights for the W.A. tourist industry. In January 1998 a facility was purchased at Jandakot Airport to provide our own pilot training and aircraft maintenance facility. The company "Jandakot Flight Centre Pty Ltd" was formed to provide pilot training, aircraft maintenance and charter services allowing Kookaburra Air to concentrate on servicing the tourism industry.

In 2013, Kookaburra opened a base in Darwin to service the air charter and scenic tour market in the Northern Territory and Kimberley regions.

All pilots are people orientated with a pleasant, friendly and helpful attitude, flexible enough to meet the individual needs of passengers, while commanding a safe and professional flight.

Company Vision

Our vision is the realization of combined air tours as the best way to tour Australia. To cover the vast distances in speed and comfort, flying over inaccessible areas of Australia between points of interest. To make it easier and more attractive for people to tour Australia, much the same way airlines have for world travel.
